Franklin County Treasurer to Participate in “Home Grown Leadership” Panel

Columbus, (OH) – Franklin County Treasurer Ed Leonard will participate in Leadership UA (Upper Arlington)’s “Home Grown Leadership” panel on March 14, 2013. This evening of conversation with leaders from Central Ohio will also include: Julie Henahan, Ohio Arts Council Executive Director; Eliza Ho and Tim Lai, Owners of Tim Lai Architects, Dinin’ Hall and ALTERNative; and Greg Lehman, owner of Watershed Distillery. The facilitator will be Dr. Brad Mitchell, Battelle for Kids.

“I am honored that a great organization like Leadership UA would invite me to join its discussion on Leadership. The panelists will provide insight on leadership from various perspectives and experiences. I’m looking forward to it,” said Treasurer Leonard.

This event will take place at Dinin’ Hall, 400 West Rich St. in Columbus. Dinner begins at 5:00pm and the program will begin at 6:00pm.

Leadership UA educates, engages and inspires current and emerging leaders to take an active, effective role in the community. Established in 1988, Leadership UA provides programs that strengthen leadership skills, broaden understanding of local issues, and connect participants with others in the community.
